2. Read to four people, Bob, Andrea, Jim and Pauline describe something bad that happened on holiday.

1. Bob It was stupid really. I was in the railway station and I was waiting for the train. This guy my age came up to me and asked me about a place to buy souvenirs. I couldn't help him and then he went away. Then I noticed that my bag was open. Someone had stolen my digital camera. I had packed it in the front of my suitcase and someone had taken it while I was talking to the man. I think they were working as a team.

2. Andrea

It was awful. I woke up in the middle of the night feeling ill. I had a fever and I started vomiting. It was the same for my parents. We had gone to a posh restaurant by the sea and we had eaten some prawns, and I'm sure that they had made me ill. I spent the whole next day in bed.

3. Jim

I'm not a tourist. I'm a traveller but sometimes I get into trouble. Last year, I was in La Paz. Well I hadn't wanted to go on a guided tour so I just went to explore the city on my own using an app. The problem was that there was no WiFi and I couldn't use my phone. I got completely lost. Luckily, I met this lovely old lady who took me back to my youth hostel. She was nice but it was a bit embarrassing really.

4. Pauline

I was in Dubai and I was getting ready to go dancing with my friends when I looked in the mirror and my face was red. I was sunburnt! I had been on the beach all day and I hadn't put on any suncream because there were lots of clouds. I mean, in Britain, you don't get sunburnt when it's cloudy but the sun is very dangerous in Dubai. I was in agony!

In the Palm of Dubai

(1) THE WEATHER It's incredible, burning, often over 40 degrees Celsius in the summer months. Part of the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Dubai is a city in the middle of the desert. Where the pavement ends, sand begins and it stretches for kilometres and kilometres into the distance. Despite this harsh climate, the people of Dubai have turned their city into one of the world's most popular tourist resorts.

(2) IN DOHA there are five star hotels that you need special permission to visit. If you want to buy souvenirs, you can buy gold jewellery from a vending machine. The shopping malls are enormous palaces with every luxury product you could think of.

(3) IN DUBAI One of the most famous is the Palm Island. This is an artificial island built in the sea right next to the city. It is the site of luxury homes and hotels, although it's not actually the best place to go sightseeing. It's only possible to see the palm shape from the air.

(4) IN DUBAI To build the Palm Island, the developers destroyed both a place where turtles lay their eggs as well as the only coral reef along the coast. The coral was an essential habitat for marine life and although there are plans to replace it with an artificial reef, the damage has already been done.

(5) IN ARABIA Large numbers of people are moving to live in Dubai and they all need water, something which is not easily available in the desert. The solution is to use desalination plants, factories which turn sea water into fresh water. These use enormous amounts of electricity and produce large amounts of CO₂.

(6) IN DUBAI On the one hand, we want to make pleasant places for people to live and exciting locations for tourists to enjoy. This creates jobs for people where there is no other work. On the other hand, development often equals destruction and the environment suffers as a result.

1. One example is a miniature Statue of Liberty. Other visitors like to buy fridge magnets of famous places in the city such as Times Square or the Brooklyn Bridge. Most famous of all, of course, is a T-shirt that says 'I ^a NY'.
