1. Bob

It was stupid really. I was in the railway station and I was waiting for the train. This guy my age came up to me and asked me about a place to buy souvenirs. I couldn't help him and then he went away. Then I noticed that my bag was open. Someone had stolen my digital camera. I had packed it in the front of my suitcase and someone had taken it while I was talking to the man. I think they were working as a team.

2. Andrea

It was awful. I woke up in the middle of the night feeling ill. I had a fever and I started vomiting. It was the same for my parents. We had gone to a posh restaurant by the sea and we had eaten some prawns, and I'm sure that they had made me ill. I spent the whole next day in bed.

3. Jim

I'm not a tourist. I'm a traveller but sometimes I get into trouble. Last year, I was in La Paz. Well I hadn't wanted to go on a guided tour so I just went to explore the city on my own using an app. The problem was that there was no WiFi and I couldn't use my phone. I got completely lost. Luckily, I met this lovely old lady who took me back to my youth hostel. She was nice but it was a bit embarrassing really.

4. Pauline

I was in Dubai and I was getting ready to go dancing with my friends when I looked in the mirror and my face was red. I was sunburnt! I had been on the beach all day and I hadn't put on any suncream because there were lots of clouds. I mean, in Britain, you don't get sunburnt when it's cloudy but the sun is very dangerous in Dubai. I was in agony!

1) Read the text quickly to check your answers

(1). E It's incredible, burning, often over 40 degrees Celsius in the summer months. Part of the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Dubai is a city in the middle of the desert. Where the pavement ends, sand begins and it stretches for kilometres and kilometres into the distance. Despite this harsh climate, the people of Dubai have turned their city into one of the world's most popular tourist resorts.

(2). A There are five star hotels that you need special permission to visit. If you want to buy souvenirs, you can buy gold jewellery from a vending machine. The shopping malls are enormous palaces with every luxury product you could think of.

(3). F One of the most famous is the Palm Island. This is an artificial island built in the sea right next to the city. It is the site of luxury homes and hotels, although it's not actually the best place to go sightseeing. It's only possible to see the palm shape from the air.

(4). G To build the Palm Island, the developers destroyed both a place where turtles lay their eggs as well as the only coral reef along the coast. The coral was an essential habitat for marine life and although there are plans to replace it with an artificial reef, the damage has already been done.

(5). B Large numbers of people are moving to live in Dubai and they all need water, something which is not easily available in the desert. The solution is to use desalination plants, factories which turn sea water into fresh water. These use enormous amounts of electricity and produce large amounts of CO₂.

(6). C On the one hand, we want to make pleasant places for people to live and exciting locations for tourists to enjoy. This creates jobs for people where there is no other work. On the other hand, development often equals destruction and the environment suffers as a result

Complete the opening sentence of each paragraph 1-6 with a-g.

There is one extra sentence.

b. The question is whether this development has had too great a negative impact.

c. In conclusion, Dubai represents many of the problems that we have in the modern world.

- d. The original inhabitants lived a peaceful life, making their homes in tents in the desert.
 - e. The first thing you notice when you arrive in Dubai is the extreme heat.
 - f. To attract visitors, Dubai has begun many huge construction projects.
 - g. That is not the only environmental problem.

R/= No

4. Why do people allow development in Dubai when it has a negative effect on the environment?

R/= Many decisions offer a masked option, in many cases it is prudent and even makes it possible for new alternatives to appear, be they bad or good.

6. Do you think there are similar problems in your country?

R/= Yes, because environmental problems have become complex scenarios from which countless reflections unfold on the circumstances facing modern society. The potential adverse effects derived from the insertion of technological events and a development model increasingly dependent on the consumption and use of natural resources have generated a panorama of unsustainability that endangers the very material basis of human life, giving rise to This led to the so-called risk society.

7. What do you think is more important: jobs from tourism or protection of the environment?

R/= The protection of the environment

6. write a topic sentence for each of these paragraphs.

NOTE

When you write a paragraph, begin the paragraph with a topic sentence. This is a single line that summaries the content of the rest of the paragraph. This helps readers understand your text, which is important if you are writing a large amount of information.

1) One example is a miniature Statue of Liberty. Other visitors like to buy fridge magnets of famous places in the city such as Times Square or the Brooklyn Bridge. Most famous of all, of course, is a T-shirt that says 'I ^a NY'.

R/= There are many popular souvenirs that visitors buy on a trip to New York.

2) Recently there was a famous photograph of one walking on a beach where turtles lay their eggs. It is obvious that this a bad idea so why does people behave like this when they go on holiday?

R/= All over the world, tourists are damaging places which are essential for wildlife.

3) One way is to keep out of the sun between 10 am and 2 pm every day when it is most dangerous. If this is impossible, apply plenty of sun cream and wear a hat to ensure you have enough protection.

R/= It's important to protect your skin from the sun.

4) Perhaps the best option is Dino's, a classic Italian pizzeria in the city Centre. The Nagano Sushi Bar is extremely popular for Japanese food, but you need to book in advance because it's very small and always fully booked at weekends.

R/= There are many places to eat out in the city Centre.

5) Actually, many young people don't like staying in that sort of accommodation. It's too posh and the other customers are much older than them. Teenagers prefer youth hostels for their fun environment and also because it's an excellent place to meet people when you are travelling.

R/= Most of the accommodation in Dubai is made up of quality four or five-star hotels.

6) As a result, you have to pay more money if your suitcase weighs more than 20 kilos. This means you need to pack carefully. Only take small bottles of liquids like shampoo. Leave heavy books at home and take an e-reader which weighs much less. If you have a coat, wear it and don't put it in your bag, especially if it's a thick winter coat for a skiing trip

R/= Many airlines have very clear restrictions on what luggage is allowed on board.
