LIFE AND NATURE.

Propósito: Practice Students English Writing Skills through the use of a song

Motivación: Student's tastes for listening to songs are used. this time the student will listen to a simple and slow song so that they can understand what is said in it

Explanation: Make a reflection of life and its most wonderful moments in English, mention personal aspects that you consider relevant and relate them to what is mentioned in the song

Solución:

Life is very short we have happy moments, sad sometimes disappointments but even if we continue in this world everything seems super good to us but always, is there something that discourages us for me the most wonderful thing is having some important people in my life meet goals that want for my future do many activities to have memories of the future
