- Para Park was a incredible African-American civil rights school like those seen in Alabama, USA in 1953. Para was a school for African American as a young woman. She was not a student, she was a teacher. Para experienced discrimination because of her skin color and she was a teacher. She was a teacher of the first African American

- At the time, schools in America were very racist and black people had to sit in separate areas or buses apart from white people. In December 1953, Para refused to give up her seat to a white man. The police arrested her for civil disobedience and fined her $10. This was one of the largest and most successful movements against racial segregation in history and she was a hero. She was a hero in American history.
