LIFE IN A CAVE

It's a cool place in the summer and warm in the winter but can a cave be a home? Well, in China caves are a popular choice for a home. [1] These people are modern-day cave dwellers. Their caves are usually in the sides of hills and mountains. These unusual homes are earthquake-proof and friendly to the environment.

Many of the cave homes are very comfortable with two to three rooms. [2] They also have a kitchen with a fire area for cooking. Outside, there is a large yard in front of each cave. [3]

Life is simple for the cave dwellers. [4] By living in the caves, they can save more flat land for planting crops. The children in the community go to school.

[5] Many of the cave dwellers can't imagine living in the big crowded cities of China and are quite happy with their cozy cave homes.

- A Here people can relax and enjoy the view of the countryside.
B Of course, this building is also a cave.
C Caves are home to over 30 million Chinese people.

- D The caves are very small and dark inside.
E Some caves even have electricity and bathrooms.
F They are usually farmers.
